

CS 3 – COMMUNITY WELFARE FUNDObjective

The Shire of Christmas Island is pleased to announce the re-establishment of the Community Welfare Fund (CWF). The purpose of the CWF is to provide financial support and services to people in need. The main objectives of the fund are to:

- Provide support or services to the elderly, the disabled, and the disadvantaged to assist them to meet needs that are not available from other sources.
- Provide financial support to destitute people to meet specific needs.

PolicyBackground

The Community Welfare Fund was first established during the British Phosphate Commissioners (BPC) period and was known as the Retired Employees, Widows and Orphans (REWO) Fund. The main objective of the REWO Fund was to assist all retired BPC employees and their dependents (in the case of deceased) with financial difficulties. The Fund also provided general welfare and assistance to Christmas Island residents.

When the Phosphate Mining Company of Christmas Island (PMCI) took over the mining in 1981, the fund was renamed PMCI Community Welfare Fund. The PMCI CWF had a similar role to the REWO Fund but the objectives were broader. The CWF provided general assistance to charitable organisations, medical treatments, festivals, and temple and mosque minor repairs and maintenance.

In 1985, the responsibility of the PMCI CWF was directed to the then Christmas Island Assembly. Following the dismissal of the Assembly in 1987, the CWF became the responsibility of the Christmas Island Administrator.

In 1993, the Shire accepted responsibility for the Fund. However, no transactions have been made from the Fund since 1993.

Council has now established a CWF Management Committee to re-commence the operation of the Fund.

How the Fund will be managed

The CWF Management Committee will assess applications from individuals and community groups and make recommendations to Council of the Shire of Christmas Island for their approval on the allocation of funds.

The Shire President may approve recommendations by the CWF Committee for sums of up to $1000 and report any approved applications at the next Council Meeting.

The CWF Management Committee will be elected after each Shire Ordinary Election and will form the Manager of Community Services and two elected Council representatives. The Manager of Community Services and CEO are to arrange for this election as an item of business at the first Ordinary Council meeting after an election.

In order to keep the Fund at a sustainable level, the Shire will need to look at donations and other means of sourcing funds. The CWF Management Committee will be responsible for sourcing and/or recommending ways to obtain additional funds.
